Coached by F. Homer Curtis, Purdue played its first ever basketball game. The game was held at the "Old Gym" in West Lafayette, where the Boilermakers defeated the Lafayette YMCA 34-19.

1901

Purdue enjoyed its firstundefeated season. The Boilermakers, under head coach Alpha Jamison, went 12-0 with two victories over Indiana and Wabash. The Old Gold and Black never allowed more than 19 points in a game and recorded a season high of 77 points in one game.

1903

The Boilermakers, under head coach C.I. Freeman, went undefeated for the second time in their history. Freeman, who coached the Boilermakers for only one year, led Purdue to an 8-0 record, including a 17-13 win over Indiana in the final game of the season in Bloomington.

Upon the conclusion of the season, the University recognized the popularity of the sport and made basketball part of the Purdue Athletic Association.

1911-12 Boilermakers

Purdue, under the direction of head coach C.B. Jamison, went 4-7 overall.

More significantly, it marked the inaugural season for basketball in the Big Ten. The Boilermakers went 3-6 and finished sixth in the conference.

1908

Guard Cliff Lewis became the first Boilermaker to earn All-Big Ten honors.

1910

The 1909-10 season was full of changes for Purdue. A new coach, Ralph Jones, took over the reins of the program.

The Boilermakers also had a new home, as Memorial Gymnasium opened on the Purdue campus.

1910

Center Dave Charters was the first Boilermaker named to the All-America team. He garnered the honor a year later as well, as he led Purdue to a 12-4 record and its first Big Ten Championship. Charters also was a two-time All-Big Ten selection.

1011

Coach Ralph Jones' philosophy of utilizing long passes paid off as the Boilermakers won their first Big Ten Championship. Purdue and Minnesota tied for the league crown with 8-4 conference records.

1912

the Big Ten championship. Purdue's closest game of the season was a 31-22 victory over Chicago.

1917

Ward "Piggy" Lambert was named head coach of the Boilermakers. Lambert possessed a positive, low-key approach off the court but had a frenetic presence on the sidelines. Lambert remained on the Boilermaker bench for the next 28 1/2 years. He earned the nickname "Piggy" after childhood friends accused him of hogging the ball on offense.

1922

Head coach Ward Lambert led the Boilermakers to their first outright Big Ten championship.

Purdue went 8-1 in conference play and 15-3 overall. The only conference defeat of the season was a 28-29 loss to Illinois in Champaign.

1928

The Boilermakers finished the 1927-28 season with a 15-2 record and tied for another Big Ten championship. Purdue was led by All-America sophomore Charles "Stretch" Murphy. Murphy stood 6-foot-6 and dominated Purdue opponents the next three seasons.

1930

In one of the most successful seasons in Purdue history, the Boilermakers went undefeated in conference action and won their seventh Big Ten championship.

Charles "Stretch" Murphy was named to the All-America team for the third time, along with sophomore teammate John Wooden. Purdue's closest Big Ten contest was a thrilling 27-25 overtime win at Ohio State. The only two losses came when Wooden was out of the lineup due to a leg injury he sustained in a car accident.

"I certainly don't want people to misinterpret this, but I've been told that our 1929-30 team would have gone undefeated had I not injured my leg in December," said Wooden.

Perhaps the greatest season in Purdue basketball history, the 1931-32 season saw the Boilermakers go 17-1 and win the national championship. In the days before the NCAA named a national champion, titles were determined by the media.

Led by senior All-America guard John Wooden, practically every newspaper in the country named Purdue national champions. Wooden averaged an amazing 12.1 points per game his senior campaign and earned national player of the year honors.

"Our '32 team had great balance," said Wooden. "We were very experienced because we had almost everyone back from the year

After the Christmas holiday, the Boilermakers headed to the Big Apple to face New York University in Madison Square Garden.

Over 18,000 people, the largest crowd to ever see a basketball game at the time, watched the Boilermakers battle NYU until the end. Purdue battled to the wire but fell to the Violets, 43-41.

On Dec. 12, 1937, Purdue opened its new field-house. The Boilermakers defeated Indiana State 68-18 in the first game played in the building that eventually would be named after legendary Boilermaker coach Ward Lambert. Tickets for the first contest were 75 cents.

1940

Purdue claimed its 13th Big Ten championship during the 1939-40 season. For head coach Ward Lambert, it was his 11th Big Ten title in 23 years as head coach.

194

Purdue won its 500th game in school history with a 51-45 win over Louisville in West Lafayette.

It was the second win over the Cardinals in four games. The Boilermakers also won the game in Louisville 55-51.

An era came to an end on Jan. 23, 1946, as Ward Lambert resigned as basketball coach.

"I deeply regret giving up my long association with Purdue basketball, but after extended service in a strenuous game, I am anxious to be relieved of the nervous strain and mental punishment that accompanies a head coach."

Lambert, whose career record was 371-152, retired as the Big Ten's all-time leader in wins and conference championships.

The same year, Lambert's prize pupil, John Wooden, returned to campus. As coach of Indiana State, the former Boilermaker lost to his alma mater in 1946 and 1947.

On Feb. 24, 1947, two students were killed and 166 people were taken to hospitals after bleachers seating 3,400 students collapsed in Purdue Fieldhouse during Purdue's game against Wisconsin.

1947

Center Paul Hoffman was named first-team All-Big Ten for his fourth straight season. To this day, he is the only Boilermaker to accomplish that feat. He earned All-America honors for three straight seasons.

1947

Boilermakers Paul Hoffman and Ed Ehlers were the first Boilermakers ever taken in the NBA Draft. Ehlers is taken by the Boston Celtics and Hoffman is selected by Baltimore.

1950

Purdue hired coach Ray Eddy. A former teammate of John Wooden and player under Ward Lambert, Eddy placed a great deal of emphasis on academics, as well as achievements on the court.

1951

On Dec. 1, 1951, Ernie Hall became the first African-American and junior college transfer to wear a Purdue uniform. He scored four points in a 67-51 loss to Kansas State.

1955

In one of the most memorable games in Purdue basketball history, the Boilermakers battled Minnesota through six overtimes before falling 59-56. The Boilermakers used a stall technique for most of the game and shot only 32 percent from the floor.

1959

In a return back to West Lafayette, former player John Wooden led the UCLA Bruins at Purdue on Dec. 18, 1959.

The Boilermakers, behind the clutch play of junior guard Dick Mitchell, defeated the Bruins 75-74. "I wish there was a way for both teams to win," said Wooden before the game.

Purdue, which finished the season with a perfect 11-0 record in Purdue Fieldhouse, knocked off Michigan State 85-74 behind Terry Dischinger's 52 points.

The mark broke the Big Ten's previous single-game scoring record of 48 points set by Ohio State's Jerry Lucas.

On Dec. 2, 1967, the first game was played in Purdue Arena. The Boilermakers lost a thriller to UCLA, 73-71.

On March 8, 1969, the Boilermakers set a school record for points in a game when they scored 120 against rival Indiana. The 120-76 win was the final game of the regular season.

Purdue, for the first time in 29 years, won the Big Ten championship with a 13-1 conference record.

The Boilermakers, at 23-5, received a bid to the NCAA Tournament, advancing to the championship game against UCLA. The Bruins defeated the Boilermakers 92-72.

Following the 1969-70 season, Rick Mount was a first-team All-America selection. It was the second year in a row that Mount received the honor.

1969 Final Four Program

Rick Mount's jumper with four seconds left against Marquette sent the Boilermakers to the 1969 Final Four.

1972

Head coach George King stepped down to replace Guy Mackey as the athletics director. Fred Schaus was hired as the new coach.

1974

After finishing the season 17-9, the Boilermakers accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament.

Purdue headed to New York and defeated North Carolina, Hawaii, Jacksonville and Utah to win the 1974 NIT.

1977

A national television audience got its first glimpse of Joe Barry Carroll. The 7-foot-2 center came off the bench in an 86-76 win over Indiana.

In just 20 minutes of action, Carroll scored 12 points, had six rebounds and blocked three shots.

1978

Lee Rose was hired as the Boilermakers' new coach. A change in styles followed, as Rose used a slowed-down, controlled system that differed from the fast-pace style of Schaus.

1979

In Lee Rose's second year as head coach, the Boilermakers tied for the Big Ten championship and received a bid to the NCAA Tournament.

After wins over La Salle and St. John's, Purdue headed to Lexington, Ky., and knocked off Indiana and Duke to earn a trip to the Final Four.

The Boilermakers lost a hard-fought battle to UCLA in the semifinals, but defeated lowa in the consolation game in Indianapolis.

1980

A few months after leading the Boilermakers to the NCAA Final Four, All-America center Joe Barry Carroll was selected as the No. 1 pick in the NBA Draft. He was chosen by the Golden State Warriors.

1980

A new era of Purdue basketball began on April 11, 1980, as Gene Keady was hired as the new Boilermaker coach.

1981

Purdue won its 1,000th game with a 55-50 win over Northwestern on Jan. 22, 1980.

1984

Under Gene Keady's guidance, the Boilermakers won the Big Ten championship after going 15-3 in conference action.

Making the title even more impressive was the fact that Purdue was picked to finish last in the conference by the media.

The Boilermakers went 25-5 during the 1986-87 season and tied for the Big Ten championship.

During the fourth week of the season, the Boilermakers were ranked second in the nation, their highest ranking ever.

Fred Schaus led Purdue to the 1974 NIT Championship.

Gene Keady, whose team was ranked second in the preseason polls, won the Big Ten championship and finished with a 29-4 record. It was Keady's first outright league title and the most wins by a Purdue team in a single season.

1992

Glenn Robinson played his first game at Purdue. Nicknamed "Big Dog", Robinson led the Boilermakers to an 18-10 record and a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

1994

Purdue won its second outright and third Big Ten championship under head coach Gene Keady.

The Boilermakers tied a school record with 29 wins and advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament.

National College Player of the Year Glenn Robinson was selected as the first pick in the NBA Draft by the Milwaukee Bucks. He was the second Purdue player to be chosen No. 1 in the NBA Draft.

1995

After starting conference play 1-2, the Boilermakers won their second consecutive Big Ten championship and finished 25-7.

1995

The Boilermakers set a Big Ten record by winning a 20th Big Ten championship.

1996

Purdue became the second team in Big Ten history to win three-consecutive outright Big Ten championships.

The title was the 21st Big Ten championship for Purdue and its sixth under Keady.

The Boilermakers went 26-6, helping Keady earn his fifth national coach-of-the-year award.

1997

Coach Gene Keady became Purdue's all-time winningest coach with an 87-69 win at Louisville on Dec. 6, 1997.

2000

The Boilermakers reached the Elite Eight for the second time under head coach Gene Keady.

Led by fan favorite Brian Cardinal, Purdue finished the season 24-10 and came up four points short of advancing to the Final Four in a West Regional Final loss to Wisconsin.

Gene Keady and Big Ten Commissioner Jim Delany after the Boiler-makers clinched the 1995 Big Ten Championship.

Head coach Gene Keady earned his 500th win as a collegiate coach, ranking him among the top 50 coaches in NCAA Division I history.

The milestone win was an 80-73 victory over Illinois-Chicago.

2004

On April 9, 2004, Purdue named Matt Painter as associate head coach for the 2004-05 season. He replaced Gene Keady following the year, becoming Purdue's 18th head men's basketball coach.

2005

Gene Keady coaches his final game in Mackey Arena on Feb. 26 in front of a packed house. His last game is on March 10, in the first round of the Big Ten Tournament in Chicago.

2005

On April 1, 2005, Matt Painter officially becomes Purdue's head coach.

2007

Matt Painter leads the Boilermakers to a 22-12 record and back into the NCAA Tournament. Along the way, the Boilermakers win a school-record 16 home games and tie for fourth in the Big Ten.

Gene Keady won six Big Ten titles in his 25 years at Purdue.

Purdue In The Big Ten

rom its first Big Ten championship in 1911 through the decade of the 1990s, Purdue has been a force in the Big Ten Conference.

Entering its 102nd season in the Big Ten, Purdue has won a league-best 21 Big Ten championships, won more than 820 conference games, and is the only team with a series tie or advantage against every other Big Ten opponent.

In what might be considered the golden era of Purdue basketball, the Boilermakers won threestraight outright Big Ten championships from 1994 to 1996. Ohio State (1960 to 1962) is the only other team to claim three-consecutive outright crowns.

When the Boilermaker men's and women's teams won Big Ten titles in 1994 and 1995, they did something no conference school had ever accomplished. They successfully defended two conference basketball championships simultaneously. Purdue is ahead of Ohio State in overall Big Ten basketball championships. Purdue has won 28 titles (Purdue has 21 men's and seven women's titles; OSU has 19 men's and 10 women's).

The Old Gold and Black first won the Big Ten men's conference championship in 1911, and the career of one of the league's most successful coaches, Ward "Piggy" Lambert, began in 1917. Lambert went on to win 371 games as the Boilermaker boss in 28 1/2 seasons until his retirement in 1946.

One of the nation's first big men was Charles "Stretch" Murphy, who stood over 6-foot-6 and made three straight All-America teams from 1928 to 1930.

Those years also saw the start of the John Wooden era. Wooden, who went on to coaching fame at UCLA in the 1960s and 1970s, was a threetime All-American in the early 1930s, and led Purdue to the mythical national championship in 1932.

Center Terry Dischinger tipped off a golden four decades of Purdue hoops with three consecutive All-America seasons from 1960 to 1962. "Disch" became the first Boilermaker to win three Big Ten scoring championships, and starred on the gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic team. Guard Bob Orrill, a 1961 graduate, exemplified Purdue's academic tradition, winning a Rhodes Scholarship.

The mid-1960s featured two-time All-American Dave Schellhase, a forward who led the NCAA in scoring with a 32.5 average in 1966. George King, who later would serve as Purdue's athletics director from 1971 to 1992, became head coach in 1965, and quickly led the Boilermakers into the nation's basketball elite.

Guard Rick Mount electrified Purdue crowds with his long-range shooting and high-scoring exploits. He averaged 32.3 points over three seasons, including a still-standing Big Ten-record 39.4 standard in league games in 1970. The two-time All-American won three Big Ten scoring crowns and set conference records for most points in a career (2,323) and in a single game (61 against lowa in 1970).

More importantly, the Boilermakers won the conference title in 1969 (their first since 1940) and qualified for their first-ever NCAA Tournament. They advanced all the way to the championship game before losing to UCLA, led by Lew Alcindor (later Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

The 1970s featured an NIT team championship in 1974 (when the NCAA Tournament invited only 25 teams). The end of that decade also saw Purdue place second in the 1979 NIT and advance to the NCAA Final Four in 1980. The leader of those clubs was 7-foot-2 center Joe Barry Carroll, a 1980 All-American who won the conference scoring crown as a junior. He went on to be the No. 1 selection in the 1980 NBA Draft.

Gene Keady was named Purdue's head coach on April 11, 1980. In 25 years on the Purdue sideline, he built a total program based on more than just winning. Integrity, honesty, consistency, loyalty and honor are words that described Keady and the Purdue basketball family.

Keady knew how to win, but it wasn't his only source of motivation. The winningest head coach in school history, Keady posted a 512-270 record, and .655 winning percentage. He passed Lambert, who won 371 games from 1916 to 1945, as the winningest coach in history by defeating Louisville on Dec. 6, 1997. Keady's teams won six Big Ten championships, recorded 14, 20win seasons, made postseason tournament appearances in 22 of 25 years, including 17 NCAA Tournaments, and averaged 21.0 wins per season.

The 1933-34 Boilermakers, led by head coach Ward Lambert, captured the Big Ten championship.

Purdue In The Big Ten

Purdue became the second team in Big Ten history to win three consecutive outright Big Ten titles after winning the league crown in 1994, 1995 and 1996.

During the Keady era, the Boilermakers were just as successful in the classroom. Keady's Boilermakers were selected Academic All-Big Ten 41 times, and Academic All-America seven times (Brian Walker, 1981; Keith Edmonson, 1982; Steve Reid, 1983 and 1984; Craig Riley, 1992; and Carson Cunningham, 2000 and 2001).

The honors, though, don't end in the classroom, as Boilermaker players have been highly decorated for their on-court performance. Considered by many the most talented player in Purdue history, Glenn Robinson was named the consensus national player of the year in 1993-94. The "Big Dog" led the nation in scoring average (30.3) and set a Purdue and Big Ten single-season scoring record (1,030 points). Overall, Keady-coached players earned All-America status three times and first team All-Big Ten 16 times. Thirteen of Keady's players were NBA draftees and three were named Big Ten MVP (Robinson, 1994; Stephen Scheffler, 1990; and Jim Rowinski, 1984).

Considered one of the best coaches of all-time, Keady was selected as national coach of the year eight times in six different seasons. Keady was recognized as the Big Ten Coach of the Year seven times, more than anyone else in league history.

Keady also ranks high among Big Ten coaches all-time. He is the second-winningest coach in Big Ten history in league games with 265 victories. Purdue owned the best league record in the 1990s (126-68, .649).

The decade of the 1980s was one of the most celebrated in Purdue history, and the principal figure behind the success was Keady. The Boilermakers won or shared three Big Ten championships, earned berths in the NCAA Tournament on seven occasions between 1981 and 1989, had eight NBA draftees and spent 66 weeks in the AP top 20 poll.

A string of six straight 20-plus, win campaigns began in 1982-83. En route, the Boilermakers won Big Ten cochampionships in 1983-84 and 1986-87, and an outright crown in 1987-88. Purdue fashioned one of its best seasons ever in 1987-88, going 29-4 and establishing a school record for wins. That came on the heels of the 1986-87 season, when the Boilermakers went 25-5.

In the 1990s, Purdue's record was even more impressive. The Boilermakers won three consecutive outright Big Ten Championships from 1994 to 1996, and compiled a 276-139 (.665) overall record.

Purdue has participated in the NCAA Tournament in 12 of the last 18 years, including eight straight from 1993 to 2000. In Keady's 25 years at Purdue, the Boilermakers won six Big Ten titles, placed second three times and finished in the upper division of the league 18 times.

Purdue had 21 winning seasons in 25 years, and finished in the top 10 of the final AP poll six times under Keady: 1984 (10th); 1987 (7th); 1988 (3rd); 1990 (10th); 1994 (3rd) and 1996 (T4th). In 1998 and 1995, Purdue finished 11th and 12th, respectively, in the AP poll. In 2000, the Boilermakers finished 15th in the coaches poll.

Two of Keady's teams hold the record for most wins in a season with 29. The 1987-88 squad posted a 29-4 record, while the 1993-94 Boilermakers went 29-5. The 1987-88 (16-2), 1994-95 (15-3), 1995-96 (15-3), and the 1993-94 squads (14-4) won the league title outright.

Keady also represented Purdue well in United States Basketball. In the summer of 2000, he was an assistant coach for the U.S. Olympic Team, which won the gold medal.

On April 1, 2005, Matt Painter officially became head coach after serving as Keady's associate head coach during the 2004-05 season.

In 2006-07, Painter led the Boilermakers back to the NCAA Tournament, a fourth-place finish in the Big Ten and set a record with 16 wins in Mackey Arena.

The 1932 Boilermakers

Ithough the Boilermakers lead the Big Ten in titles and by several other measures, only once has the Old Gold and Black finished a season atop the national rankings.

The year was 1932, when the Boilermakers went 17-1.

In those days, the Associated Press didn't rank teams and the first NCAA-sanctioned postseason tournament wasn't held until 1939. Instead, from 1901 to 1938 a panel of experts called together by the Helms Athletic Foundation voted on the national champion at the conclusion of the basketball season.

The triumph of 1932 followed years of outstanding basketball at West Lafayette, highlighted by an undefeated conference season in 1929-30 and conference championships in 1926, 1928 and 1930.

The national championship year also coincided with the senior season of Johnny Wooden, a guard and team co-captain from Martinsville, Ind. Wooden had been named an All-American in each of his years of playing varsity basketball. In 1932, he was named player of the year by the All-America Board of Basketball.

The only blemish that banner year was a 28-21 loss to Illinois on the road. Not coincidentally, the Boilermakers were without the services of a healthy Wooden.

In those days of the Great Depression, players piled into cars and headed for away venues. On that January in 1932 as the Boilermakers prepared to head west, Wooden jumped in Ward Lambert's car. The senior co-captain liked to ride along with his mentor and had become a bit of a coach on the playing floor. During the trip, Lambert's car hit a patch of ice and overturned, shattering the windows. Wooden's hand was cut by the glass and, although he played, the eventual league scoring champ was not himself. Illinois prevailed 28-21.

The loss to Illinois was followed by a string of 11 victories, including a 34-19 decision over Illinois at West Lafayette.

The eventual champions went out in style. On the final night of Western Conference play, Purdue defeated conference foe Chicago, 53 to 18 at Memorial Gymnasium on campus. Besides outscoring the entire opposing team by 3, Wooden's point total also secured him the Western Conference scoring title, which had been held since 1930 by Indiana center Branch McCracken.

Wooden was far from a one-man show. Senior co-captain Harry Kellar is credited with hitting an open Wooden and running the fast break to perfection. Center Ralph Parmenter and forward Ray Eddy used Lambert's pressing defense, quick passing and fast breaks to wear down opponents and claim the mythical national championship of 1932.

John Wooden

uch is known about John Wooden, whose coaching success at UCLA is unlikely to ever be bested or even threatened. Not only a master tactician, but a man of impeccable moral character, he is part philosopher, part motivator and 100 percent Boilermaker.

His "Pyramid of Success" is perhaps as well known as the long list of All-Americans he coached at UCLA. He is a basketball institution.

What is not so well known is that this Martinsville, Ind., native excelled on the hardwood at the old Memorial Gymnasium, led a national championship team as a player in 1932, and credits his years playing for Ward Lambert with laying the foundation for his future success.

"Lambert was a great psychologist, accomplishing more with words than any coach I've ever known," Wooden told his biographer for the 1972 book "They Call Me Coach." He continued on in a similar vein about Lambert's ability to motivate with words: "I think it is one of my attributes that can definitely be traced to him. He was not one for team meetings; I'm not either."

One of just two individuals enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame as player and coach, Wooden rose from humble beginnings. In 1918, he took up the game that would later rename the national collegiate player of the year for him. His ball was a wad of his mother's stockings, his hoop a tomato basket his father nailed to the barn wall.

At Martinsville High School, Wooden led his team to the state championship in 1927 and runner-up finishes in 1926 and 1928. He was a three-time all-state selection.

A three-time All-America selection at Purdue, Wooden established a new scoring standard with an unheard-of 12.1 points per game his senior season. In his last game as a Boilermaker, he equaled his own single-game record with 21 points in a 53-18 victory over Chicago. He excelled off the court as well. During the first semester of his senior year in 1932, his grade point average stood 19th in a student body that numbered 4.675.

Following his collegiate playing days, he went on to play semi-professional basketball and then coached high school basketball in Kentucky and South Bend, Ind.

Wooden entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1946 as basketball and football coach as well as athletics director at Indiana State. After two successful seasons in Terre Haute, the offers poured in and he narrowed his next move to either UCLA or Minnesota.

Although he was all set to take the coaching job at Minnesota, a snowstorm kept his would-be boss from making the phone call to offer the job. Instead, the offer came via telephone from Westwood first. Wooden accepted, thinking Minnesota had lost interest. When the frantic call came in later that evening from the Minnesota athletics director, Wooden informed him it was too late.

Wooden was named national player of the year in 1932.

Thus Purdue was spared the agony of playing conference games against arguably the best coach ever to pace the hardwood.

At UCLA, he amassed a 620-147 record. The Bruins notched four 30-0 seasons under Wooden, as well as these records that still stand: 88 consecutive victories, 38 straight NCAA Tournament wins, 19 PAC-10 championships and 10 national championships.

This master of the game is as humble and unassuming as he is successful. He quickly credits others with inspiring ideas that are identified with his UCLA teams.

Lambert leads the list of those who came before Wooden who molded him, according to his 1972 biography: "From a technician's viewpoint, Coach Lambert has had the greatest influence on my career, both from the viewpoint of playing as well as coaching."

Outside Purdue basketball circles, Lambert's name will never be mentioned with that of John Wooden. But Wooden himself tells repeatedly of the early exposure to ideas that worked that he later employed as a coach: "In the past few years, following our great success at UCLA, I have overheard people say that I originated the pressing defense. Not at all. I played the press at Purdue under Lambert."

Ward Lambert

hough standing just 5-foot-6, Ward "Piggy" Lambert is one of the largest figures in Purdue basketball history.

Born in Deadwood, S.D., in 1888, Lambert spent his boyhood days on the basketball court of the YMCA after his family moved to Crawfordsville, Ind. Always a student of the game, he learned by watching the Wabash College and Crawfordsville YMCA and high school teams.

Lambert played high school ball at Crawfordsville for Ralph Jones, though he never cracked the starting lineup due to his diminutive stature. However, as a sophomore at Wabash College, again under the tutelage of Jones, later a Purdue coach, he was given the opportunity to start and went on to lead the team in scoring for the season.

Although he never seriously considered a coaching profession while in college, Lambert was forced to take a teaching position in Lebanon, Ind., due to financial difficulties in 1911. To accompany his teaching responsibilities, he became the high school's basketball coach. Four years later, Lambert would become the 10th head coach at Purdue.

In 1916-17, his first season at Purdue, Lambert directed the Boilermakers to an 11-3 record, the first winning season for Purdue in four years. With the outbreak of World War I, Lambert served in the Army from 1917 to 1918, forcing him to vacate his seat on the bench.

Lambert returned to the Purdue campus for the 1918-19 season and suffered through a 6-8 campaign. The losing record would be one of only three the coach would have in over 28-plus years at the helm in West Lafayette, and the only one until the 1942-43 season. In 1922, Purdue won its first undisputed Big Ten title, posting a 15-3 record. It was Lambert's second league crown in just five years as the school's head coach. He would go on to direct the Boilermakers to 11 Big Ten titles during his tenure, including three in a row from 1934 to 1936.

As a rule, Lambert had forged his early Purdue teams around shorter, quicker players and relied on the fast break. He believed that if the team could score 10 points each game on fast breaks, the rest of the contest would take care of itself. That rule was challenged in the 1927-28 season.

Lambert found one of the earliest dominating big men in basketball, forming his team around 6-foot-6 Charles "Stretch" Murphy. Purdue won a share of the league championship that season, and the legend of Boilermaker basketball grew swiftly across the country.

Interest in Lambert's team had grown to the point that, for four games in 1929, Purdue played its home games in Lafayette Jefferson High School's new gymnasium rather than the oncampus Memorial Gym, which was half the size.

In 1930, Lambert directed Purdue to an undefeated conference season, marking the first time the Boilermakers won a Big Ten title with an unblemished record. All-Americans Murphy and John Wooden, a sophomore, helped Purdue win all 10 of its Big Ten games, becoming only the second team in school history to that point to unscathed in league play.

Two years later, Lambert secured his place in Purdue history when he directed the Boilermakers to a 17-1 season and the national championship. Purdue dominated its opposition in 1932, winning its 17 games by an average of more than 16 points. Wooden was named national player of the year, a Boilermaker honor that would be equaled 62 years later by Glenn Robinson.

In the span of the next eight seasons, Lambert's Boilermakers won five Big Ten championships.

Purdue vaulted to the top of the Big Ten again in 1934, and stayed atop the league for three consecutive seasons. During the 1934, 1935 and 1936 seasons, Lambert directed the Boilermakers to a 30-6 conference record, 50-10 overall.

Lambert led Purdue to its 10th Big Ten title in 1938, posting a mark of 18-2 overall and 10-2 in the league. Two years later, the Boilermakers would again win the Big Ten crown, the final title under Lambert.

In 28-plus seasons in direction of Purdue basketball, Lambert mentored 16 All-Americans and 31 first team All-Big Ten selections.

Lambert compiled a career record of 371-152, a .709 winning percentage. His 228 wins in Big Ten play have been bested by only Indiana's Bob Knight (353 in 29 years) and current Purdue head coach Gene Keady (255 in 23 years).

In 1960, two years after his death, Lambert was enshrined in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. As part of the Hall's second class, Lambert is one of only seven coaches in the history of the Big Ten to be enshrined.

Glenn Robinson

n only two seasons on the basketball court, Glenn Robinson dominated the competition like no other athlete in Purdue history.

Nicknamed "Big Dog," Robinson came to Purdue from Gary, Ind., where he was accustomed to dominating on the basketball court. During his four years at Gary Roosevelt High School, Robinson guided his team to a 73-7 record. In his senior season, he was named Indiana Mr. Basketball and led his team to the state championship. As a senior, he averaged 25.6 points, 14.6 rebounds and 3.8 blocks per game. He set a school record with 1,710 points in his career with the Panthers.

After sitting out his freshman season, Robinson exploded onto the college basketball scene as a sophomore. In his first season, Robinson led the Big Ten in scoring with 25.5 points per game. He recorded 13 double-doubles and was named second-team All-America. He scored in double figures in 27 of 28 games and averaged 9.2 rebounds, 1.2 blocks and 2.0 steals per outing.

The Boilermakers advanced to the 1993 NCAA Tournament and finished the season 18-10.

Robinson returned with a fiery determination for his junior campaign. The Boilermakers traveled to Europe in the summer of 1993. While overseas, he led the Boilermakers in scoring, averaging 28.4 points and 10.2 rebounds per game.

The Boilermakers began the 1993-94 campaign on a mission. The Old Gold and Black beganthe season by winning the Great Alaska Shootout, and Robinson was named MVP. That tournament set the tone as Robinson and the Boilermakers won all 12 of their non-conference games. In the Big Ten opener at Northwestem, Robinson knocked down a 10-foot baseline jumper with eight seconds remaining to give the Boilermakers a one-point win. The Boilermakers 14-0 start to the season is the best in school history.

"Glenn is a man playing among boys out there," says Lefty Driesell, who coached James Madison, when Purdue defeated the Dukes 98-74 in 1994. "He plays at another level and is totally dominant."

Coaches and media agreed that Robinson was a special player.

"Glenn possesses all the things that coaches can't teach — the great athletic ability, the running, the jumping and all the natural instincts," said ABC and ESPN analyst Dick Vitale during the 1994 season. "He's a truly special player that can absolutely dominate a game."

Robinson led the Boilermakers throughout the Big Ten season. On March 6, 1994, the Boilermakers visited Ann Arbor, Mich., to face the Wolverines, who had a half-game lead in the conference race. The Boilermakers trailed by one with six seconds remaining when Robinson hit a running jumper at the buzzer to stun the crowd at Crisler Arena and give the Boilermakers a 95-94 victory and a half-game lead to win the Big Ten race.

In a regular season-ending win over Illinois in Mackey Arena, Robinson scored a career-high 49 points, and Purdue clinched its 19th Big Ten championship with a 14-4 conference record.

The Boilermakers earned the third spot in the AP Poll and a No. 1 seed in the 1994 NCAA Tournament. Robinson led the Boilermakers to the Sweet 16 of the tournament and a matchup with Kansas in Knoxville, Tenn. Robinson scored 44 points and collected seven rebounds against the Jayhawks, leading Purdue to an 83-78 win and a trip to the Elite Eight.

In just two years, Robinson had accomplished nearly everything a single player could achieve in college basketball. He was named the 1994 consensus national player of the year and earned First Team All-America honors. Robinson was the Big Ten's player of the year and led the country in scoring with 30.3 points per game. Perhaps the most prized award of the year came when Robinson was named the recipient of the John Wooden Award, given to the country's top player and named after 1932 Purdue graduate John Wooden. Robinson was the first Purdue player to earn the honor since Wooden himself had been named national player of the year in 1932.

In merely two seasons, Robinson etched his name in Purdue record books. Still the only player in the Big Ten to score over 1,000 points in a single season, Robinson ranks eighth all time in scoring in Purdue history with 1,706 points. He is the only Boilermaker to record at least 1,000 career points, 500 rebounds, 100 steals, 100 assists and 50 blocked shots in a career.

"Glenn was the easiest player to coach that ever played for me," said coach Gene Keady. "He enjoyed practices and loved to compete. He was a dream to have as a player."

In the summer of 1994, Robinson was selected as the No. 1 pick by the Milwaukee Bucks in the NBA draft. Robinson played for the Bucks for eight seasons. Twice an All-Star, Robinson averaged more than 20 points and six rebounds a game. Never forgetting his early years, Robinson donated 50 tickets to youth groups from Milwaukee and Gary during each Bucks home game.

In the 2005, Robinson won a world championship with the San Antonio Spurs.

hen Gene Keady first came to West Lafayette in the spring of 1980, no one could have anticipated him accomplishing so much during his tenure at Purdue. However, after 25 years of running up and down the sidelines and perfecting his famous scowl, Gene Keady's name has become synonymous with Boilermaker basketball. He forever will be known as one of the greatest to ever coach the game.

Many would say that coaching 25 years in NCAA Division I basketball is an accomplishment within itself. However, it often is overlooked that Keady spent 22 years making his way up the coaching ranks before coming to Purdue. He achieved success at all levels of the game, something that is rarely seen in coaching today.

"He has coached on all levels: he coached high school, then junior college, then was a college assistant, and I think that is what our coaches really appreciate," said former coaching assistant to Keady and current Illinois head coach Bruce Weber. "He has done it with all levels of talent, and he hasn't stepped on anyone along the way. I appreciate coaches like him."

Keady began his coaching career at Beloit High School in Kansas in 1958 after a brief stint in the NFL playing for the Pittsburgh Steelers. After compiling a 102-47 record in six seasons as head coach of Beloit High, Keady made his way to Hutchinson (Kan.) Junior College, where he would prove himself ready to coach Division I basketball.

Under Keady, Hutchinson won six league titles and qualified for six national tournaments, including a second-place showing and 29-4 overall record in 1972-73. He was named junior college coach of the year in Region Six three consecutive times (1971, 1972, 1973), and is enshrined in the National Junior College Basketball Hall of Fame as a player and coach.

Keady left Hutchinson in 1974 for an assistant coaching position at Arkansas under a living legend, Eddie Sutton. As Sutton's assistant, Keady worked tirelessly recruiting nationally renowned prospects and contributed in molding one of the finest programs in the nation.

Keady's time under Sutton prepared him for his first head coaching position in Division I basketball at Western Kentucky, his final stop before reaching West Lafayette.

While becoming a prominent leader in two years at Western Kentucky, Keady caught the eye of onlookers at Purdue as he led the Hilltoppers to a 38-19 record, a share of the Ohio Valley Conference championship title in 1979, and a bid to the NCAA Tournament.

Keady was named Purdue's 17th head coach on April 11, 1980, embarking on his illustrious career at the helm of Boilermaker basketball. His would be the second-longest men's basketball coaching tenure in school history, second only to Ward Lambert's 28 ½ seasons.

Keady came to Purdue during a period where coaches such as Bob Knight, Jud Heath-cote, Lou Henson and Lute Olson led the Big Ten. He was left with big shoes to fill after previous head coach Lee Rose led the Boilermakers to a Big Ten title and a Final Four appearance in the two previous seasons.

Almost instantly becoming one of the Big Ten's most respected coaches, Keady led the Boilermakers to a Big Ten championship in his fourth season. Along with his first conference title, Keady was named Big Ten coach of the year and national coach of the year for the first time in his career.

Keady went on to win three Big Ten titles and appear in eight NCAA Tournaments in his first decade at Purdue. During that period, Keady would go on to be named Big Ten coach of the year three times and national coach of the year twice.

One of Keady's most memorable accomplishments at Purdue came in the mid-90s when the Boilermakers won three consecutive conference titles. From 1994 to 1996, the Boilermakers ruled the Big Ten and Keady was honored as the league's coach of the year each of those seasons. He also received national coach of the year honors all three seasons.

On February 26, 2005, a packed Mackey Arena paid tribute to Keady following his final home game. Fans displayed placards which read "Thanks Coach" as Keady addressed the crowd.

By the end of his career, Keady led the Boilermakers to 14 20-win seasons, including six seasons with 25 or more wins. He left Purdue as the school's all-time-winningest coach with a record of 512-270 (.655). His conference record of 265-169 (.611) ranks him second in wins in Big Ten history.

Keady led the Boilermakers to 22 postseason berths (17 NCAA Tournaments). Purdue's best performances in the Big Dance were a couple of appearances in the Elite Eight in 1994 and 2000. He led the Boilermakers to the Sweet 16 in 1988, 1989 and 1999.

Keady was named Big Ten coach of the year a record seven times — tying Bob Knight — and national coach of the year six times, second only to Duke's Mike Krzyzewski.

With all these accolades and accomplishments under his belt, you might think that there was not much more Keady could have done as coach. However he did just as much for his players off the court as he coached them on it.

To Keady, basketball was more than just a game he coached; basketball was a lesson he used to teach his players how to succeed in school as well as in life.

"Graduating, becoming a good person, and having the right morals were far more important to coach than any award or accolade," said former Boilermaker and current NBA player Brian Cardinal. "He constantly put our own personal life goals ahead of his athletic goals."

Nearly 90 percent of Keady's seniors who stayed at Purdue for four seasons graduated. During his tenure, Boilermakers were selected Academic All-Big Ten 35 times, and earned Academic All-American honors seven times.

Along with being a mentor to his players throughout his career, Keady also played a prominent role in United States Basketball.

As the head coach of various USA Basketball teams, Keady racked up a record of 22-2 in four different tournaments from 1979 to 1991. He led Team USA to two gold medals: one in 1979 at the National Sports Festival, and another in 1989 at the World University Games. Keady also grabbed the silver medal in 1985 at the R. Williams Jones Cup and the bronze at the 1991 Pan-American Games.

Throughout his prestigious career and still today, Keady continues to be a major player in the development of college basketball. He is a member and former president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and remains one of the leading spokesmen on issues surrounding college basketball.

Keady is known to give back to the game of basketball whenever he gets the chance. He performs charity work, makes numerous speaking appearances every year, and is overly accommodating to fans and news media.

In his 25 years at Purdue, Keady did it all, from coaching champions to graduating students. The toughness he showed on the court and the way he continues to represent basketball today exemplifies what his profession is all about.

Homes Of Purdue Basketball

he game developed by James Naismith was a scant five years old when the Boilermakers took up basketball. In a 50-by-100 building known since 1873 as the Military Hall and Gymnasium, the Boilermakers went to work. Purdue first tipped off on Jan. 23, 1897, against a select team from the Lafayette YMCA. The final result was 34-19 in favor of Purdue.

Several years would pass before basketball caught on again at West Lafayette. The humble "Old Gym" afforded little spectator space, and it was the site of all intramural and intercollegiate competition.

A year after the first intercollegiate game was played at West Lafayette, this blurb appeared in the Purdue Exponent student newspaper: "On account of the large number taking part in the gymnasium exercises every Friday evening, it has been necessary to abandon basketball for the rest of the year."

By 1901, basketball was back at Purdue, although the diminutive former drill hall really couldn't hold it.

Basketball burst upon the scene at Purdue, as at other institutions, as wholly unfamiliar. As late as 1901, a reporter for the Lafayette Daily Courier chose this odd description of the Boilermakers' 38-7 win: "Though the score was onesided, it proved an interesting game, especially when some of the players would run against the crowd or smash in among empty chairs or apparatus."

In 1907, Purdue home games were played in the Coliseum at the corner of 6th and Alabama streets in downtown Lafayette. Soon basketball would move back to campus, however.

Beginning in the 1890s, students and staff had agitated for a new gymnasium on campus. In 1903, a horrific accident offered a rallying point for those who sought better facilities for exercise and competition. A Purdue "football special" train on the way to Indianapolis for the 1903 Purdue-Indiana game collided with stray railroad cars on the outskirts of the city. Students and football players were injured by the score; 17 lost their lives.

On Memorial Day 1909, Memorial Gymnasium was dedicated to the memory of the victims of the 1903 tragedy. It became the new on-campus home of Purdue basketball. Construction of Memorial Gymnasium – originally conceived as a student union as well as athletics center – taxed the wherewithal of the campus and Lafayette community. Even so, its 2,000-spectator capacity was inadequate to hold growing basketball crowds. Memorial Gymnasium also was the new home of all sports on campus, which at that time consisted of football, basketball, baseball, and track and field.

According to the 1910 Debris yearbook, the running track suspended above the playing floor was needed for overflow crowds: "The Memorial Gymnasium, with a seating capacity of approximately 2,000, has been crowded to the doors, with two or three hundred standing on the track at all Big Eight games." The Big Eight was an earlier name of the conference now known as the Big Ten.

The Boilermakers played their first game in the new Memorial Gymnasium on Jan. 8, 1910. Purdue prevailed, 55-14.

Memorial Gymnasium, built in 1909 in memory of those killed in a 1903 train wreck, was home of Purdue basketball until 1934.

Old Lafayette Jefferson High School became the Boilermakers' temporary home court for four games in 1929 and again from 1934 to 1937.

Memorial Gymnasium was located alongside Stuart Field, named for Charles Stuart, president of the Purdue Board of Trustees. Baseball and football were played there, and track and field meets were staged on the expanse now occupied by the Elliott Hall of Music. Although the old Military Hall and Gymnasium was destroyed by fire in 1916, Stuart and the Memorial Gymnasium continued as the hub of Purdue sports.

By the late 1920s, when Purdue began to enjoy consistent success under coach Ward Lambert, the Boilermakers had long before outgrown the modest Memorial Gymnasium. In 1929, four home games were moved to the Lafayette Jefferson High School gym. Home games bounced back to campus for several years, but from 1934 until completion of a new venue on campus, games were played at the high school.

Growing pains afflicted more than just Purdue intercollegiate athletics. As early as 1920, Purdue visionaries looked for a site for athletics facilities. As the modern University expanded beyond the 19th century cluster of buildings that comprised the original campus, space on the academic campus was needed for buildings.

Enter David Ross, alumnus, prolific inventor and industrialist, and member of the Board of Trustees. He and fellow alumnus George Ade in 1922 bought an old dairy farm to be the site of a new Purdue football stadium. But their plans went beyond the gridiron. The Ross-Ade grounds would eventually be home to baseball, track and field, and tennis. When Purdue basketball games were moved off-campus, Ross and President Edward Elliott started work on a bringing basketball back to campus.

Years in the making – and the result of creative and resourceful funding that involved Depression-era federal money, and thousands in alumni donations and thousands more from Ross – Purdue Fieldhouse opened in 1937 with a capacity of 7,500, and space to expand to 10,000. Purdue played its first basketball game back home on campus on Dec. 11, 1937, when Purdue beat Indiana State 61-18. Now known as Lambert Fieldhouse in honor of longtime basketball coach Ward Lambert, the fieldhouse was home to Purdue basketball until December 1967.

Purdue Arena made its debut as the distinctive domed home of Purdue basketball on Dec. 2, 1967, as the Boilermakers hosted Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins. Along with the dedication of the arena, the event marked the return to West Lafayette of John Wooden, three-time All-American and member of the 1932 national championship team, (see page 101). A protégé of Lambert's, he was by 1967 known as John Wooden, architect of a UCLA dynasty unlikely to ever be equaled. The Bruins won the game, 73,71

Purdue Arena was renamed in 1971 in honor of Guy Mackey, director of athletics from 1942 until his death in 1971.

At 39 years and counting, Mackey, with a seating capacity of 14,123, holds the distinction of serving as home of Purdue basketball the longest of the four on-campus and six total home courts of the Boilermakers.

Purdue Arena, later renamed for Guy Mackey, athletics director from 1942 to 1971, has been home of Purdue basketball since December 1967.

Basketball Hall Of Fame

The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame is located in Springfield, Mass. The hall opened on Feb. 17, 1968. In 38 years, 258 Hall of Famers and four teams have been enshrined in the hall including three Purdue legends: Ward Lambert, Charles Murphy and John Wooden. The hall opened a new facility on Sept. 28, 2002.

To be inducted in the hall a player or coach must be fully retired for five years or, if still actively coaching, have coached for 25 years or more. Referees and other special contributors also are eligible for consideration.

Once eligible, a nomination form must be submitted on behalf of the candidate. A screening committee reviews the nominee and recommends those qualified to the Honors Committee for further consideration. If the candidate receives 18 of 24 votes, he or she enters the hall. If the candidate doesn't receive the adequate votes for five consecutive years, he or she has to wait three years to become eligible again.

In 2004 and 2005, Gene Keady was a finalist for the Hall of Fame.

The Basketball Hall of Fame opened its new facility on Sept. 28, 2002.

John Wooden is one of two members of the Hall of Fame inducted as both a player and coach.

Charles "Stretch" Murphy and coach Ward "Piggy" Lambert are both in the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Indiana Basketball Hall Of Fame

The Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame captures the essence of "Hoosier Hysteria" and helps explain to the visitor why the game of basketball has a special place in the hearts and minds of all who live here. This Hall focuses on Indiana high school players and coaches, men and women.

From 1970 to 1986, the Hall of Fame was located in Indianapolis. In 1986 the building was sold and, after bids were received from 13 communities, New Castle was selected as the new site. The Hall is located near a 9,300-seat high school gymnasium, the world's largest. The two-story Hall of Fame is located on a five-acre site near the intersection of Highway 3 and Trojan Lane. Highway 3 is accessible from Interstate 70.

A colorful courtyard, in which the sidewalks and retaining walls reflect the familiar shapes of a basketball floor, salutes past and present champions. At the center of the courtyard is a map of the state, 70 feet long and 36 feet wide, composed of thousands of personalized paving bricks of donors. Adjacent to the courtyard is the Honor Wall, and flagpoles lining this wall fly the banners of each semi-state and state champion.

The Hall of Fame Museum contains numerous displays, exhibits, artifacts, equipment, pictures, videos, and memorabilia that vividly present the history of Indiana basketball.

Players become eligible for Hall of Fame induction 25 years after their high school graduation. Coaches are eligible after accumulating 25 years of varsity experience or after retirement. While anyone can nominate an individual to the Hall of Fame, a state wide board of directors (composed of coaches, journalists, administrators, and businessmen) oversees the Hall of Fame selection process, each year appointing a selection committee representing all parts of the state.

In addition to honoring inductees, each year the Hall presents a Silver Medal to an individual deserving special recognition for his/her contributions to Indiana high school basketball. A Silver Anniversary Team of outstanding senior basketball players from 25 years earlier is selected.

Boilermakers In The NBA

Glenn Robinson was the first pick in the 1994 NBA draft.

Purdue has had several players go on to play professionally in the NBA, as well as overseas, in the 108 years of Boilermaker basketball.

Perhaps the most talented and most heralded player ever produced by Purdue was Glenn Robinson. The first overall pick in the 1994 NBA Draft by the Milwaukee Bucks, Robinson was named college basketball's national player of the year following the 1994 season after leading the country in scoring average (30.3 ppg), while also pulling down 10.1 rebounds per game.

Robinson made a considerable impact in the NBA during his rookie season with the Bucks in 1995, finishing 10th in the league in scoring (21.9 ppg) and first among all rookies. In 1996, Robinson was selected to play with "Dream Team II" for the 1996 World Championships in Toronto, Ontario, but had to withdraw due to injury.

Purdue is one of only six schools in the country to have had two NBA No. 1 draft picks in their history: Glenn Robinson and All-American center Joe Barry Carroll, who was the top pick by the Golden State Warriors in the 1980 NBA Draft.

In 2006, there were two former Boilermakers in the NBA. Brad Miller signed a $68 million-dollar deal with the Sacramento Kings after playing two seasons with the Indiana Pacers, where he was an All-Star.

Brian Cardinal, who began his fifth season in the NBA, was signed in 2004 by the Memphis Grizzlies for six years and $39 million dollars.

In the 2007 NBA Draft, Carl Landry was selected by Seattle as the first pick in the second round. Landry was then traded to the Houston Rockets.

History Of College Basketball's All-Americans

The Boilermakers' tradition of producing All-Americans is virtually unmatched by any institution across the nation, having players selected as All-Americans on 42 occasions (25 players) throughout its rich basketball history. Purdue has had players earn consensus first team All-America honors 16 times (10 players), five three-time All-Americans, six two-time All-Americans and two national players of the year. The Boilermakers rank fifth in NCAA history in consensus All-America selections with 16.

The history of selecting All-America student-athletes begins in 1920, when the Helms Athletic Foundation chose basketball All-Americans retroactively. The Helms panel named 10 players for each year, but didn't recognize them as first or second team. In 1929, the foundation began designating the top five players as consensus All-Americans. The Helms Foundation's last team was in 1968.

The Associated Press began selecting All-Americans in 1948 with one team. It expanded to three teams in 1954.

The United Press International began its All-American teams in 1949 and expanded to three teams in 1951. UPI's last team was in 1991.

Several other major selectors have chosen second- and third-team All-Americans from time to time, though not with any great consistency.

The NCAA officially recognizes consensus All-Americans beginning in 1929. A second team All-America squad was added annually in 1939. The NCAA now recognizes the AP's first and second team in its official record book.

The History of No. 13 at Purdue

The number 13 was anything but unlucky to two individuals who wore the digits while playing basketball for the Old Gold and Black.

John Wooden and Glenn Robinson both were named National Player of the Year while wearing No. 13 on the hardwood at Purdue.

Wooden was a threetime All-American and was named the 1932 National Player of the Year after leading the Boilermakers to the 1932 national championship.

Robinson was named All-American in his only two seasons with the Boilermakers and earned national player of the year honors in 1994.

One of the most underappreciated players in Purdue basketball history, Paul Hoffman is the only Boilermaker to be named to an All-American team all four years. In 1944, his first year at Purdue, freshmen were declared eligible to play because of World War II.

Consensus All-America Selections

Joe Barry Carroll 1980 All-American

One of the most physically imposing players in Purdue history, Joe Barry Carroll was named a consensus All-American in 1980.

Carroll played four years for the Old Gold and Black. He is the Boilermakers' all-time leading rebounder and ranks second on the all-time scoring list.

Carroll was named All-Big Ten in 1979 and 1980 and led the Boilermakers to the 1980 Final Four, before losing to UCLA in the national semifinals.

Carroll averaged more than 22 points a game in his junior and senior seasons.

Following his career at Purdue, Carroll was selected as the first pick in the 1980 NBA Draft by the Golden State Warriors. Carroll played 10 seasons in the NBA. He finished his professional career averaging 17.7 points and 7.7 rebounds in more than 700 games.

Carroll was selected to the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame in 1995.

Norman Cottom 1934 All-American

Norman Cottom, one of the best ball-handlers in Purdue history, led the Boilermakers to Big Ten championships in 1934 and 1935.

A native of Terre Haute, Ind., Cottom led the Big Ten in scoring and was named an All-American forward as a junior in 1934.

He averaged 8.3 points during his career and guided Purdue to two of three consecutive Big Ten titles

After concluding his career at Purdue, Cottom played for the Indianapolis Kautskys. Following his playing days he coached Indiana high school basketball at Alexandria, Terre Haute Gerstmeyer and Terre Haute Wiley.

In 1952, Cottom moved to California to become chairman of the social studies department at Fullerton High School.

Cottom was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1978.

Terry "Disch" Dischinger 1961, 1962 All-American

Purdue's second 1,000-point scorer in school history, Terry Dischinger was one of the most decorated Boilermakers ever to step foot on the hardwood.

A Parade All-American at Garfield High School in Terre Haute, Ind., Dischinger was named second-team All-American in 1960 and consensus All-American in 1961 and 1962.

In 1960, Dischinger was a member of the USA Olympic Basketball team, which captured the gold medal in Rome.

Dischinger led the Big Ten in scoring in 1960, 1961 and 1962, and was named to the Big Ten Scholastic Team. Dischinger currently ranks fifth on Purdue's all-time scoring list, second in rebounding and has the third-highest scoring average.

Following his career with the Boilermakers, Dischinger played in the NBA for 10 seasons, seven with the Detroit Pistons, and was named the league's Rookie of the Year in 1963. He scored over 9,000 career points and collected over 3,600 rebounds in this NBA career.

Dischinger was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1989, and the Purdue Athletics Hall of Fame in 1994.

Robert Kessler 1936 All-American

Forward Robert Kessler, a native of Anderson, Ind., was one of the winningest players in Purdue basketball history.

In his three seasons with the Boilermakers, Kessler won Big Ten championships in 1934, 1935 and 1936. In those three seasons he led the Boilermakers to a combined 50-10 record, while averaging 12.1 points in his junior and senior seasons. Kessler was named All-American in 1936.

Following his playing career, which included three seasons as a professional with the Indianapolis Kautskys, Kessler went on to become vice president of General Motors.

Kessler was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1968.

Rick "The Rocket" Mount 1969, 1970 All-American

Known as "The Rocket," Rick Mount is the most prolific scorer in the history of Purdue basketball. He remains one of the best shooters the game has ever seen.

The first high school player to appear on the cover of Sports Illustrated, Mount came to Purdue after being named the national high school player of the year in 1966.

Mount was named a consensus All-American in 1969 and 1970. He ranks first on Purdue's all-time scoring list with 2,323 career points and is the only player to average over 30 points a game in his career.

Mount led the Boilermakers to the 1969 Big Ten championship and the final game of the 1969 NCAA Tournament before losing to John Wooden's UCLA Bruins

Of the top-10 single-game scoring performances in Big Ten history, Mount's name appears three times. His 61-point explosion in a 108-107 loss to lowa in February 1970 remains the gold standard. He scored those points without the benefit of the three-point shot. Three years ago the Chicago Tribune ran a story claiming that if the arc had existed, Mount likely would have finished with 13 three-pointers and 74 points.

Following his career at Purdue, Mount played five seasons in the ABA for the Kentucky Colonels and the Indiana Pacers.

Mount was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992, and the Purdue Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame in 1994.

Consensus All-America Selections

Charles "Stretch" Murphy 1929, 1930 All-American

Arguably the first dominant big man in basketball, Charles "Stretch" Murphy earned back-to-back first team consensus All-America honors in 1929 and 1930.

During a time when scoring in double figures was unheard of, Murphy averaged 11.2 points and led the Boilermakers to a 41-8 record over his three seasons. In 1929, Murphy scored 143 points in conference action, setting a Big Ten record at the time. In 1930, he guided the Boilermakers to a perfect 10-0 mark in the conference.

After winning the 1926 Indiana high school championship at Marion, Murphy guided the Boilermakers to Big Ten Championships in 1928 and 1930. He went on to play in the ABL for the Chicago Bruins and the Indianapolis Kautskys of an independent league.

Murphy was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1960, the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1963, and the Purdue Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame in 1995.

Glenn "Big Dog" Robinson 1994 All-American 1994 National Player of the Year

The most dominating player in the history of Purdue basketball, Glenn "Big Dog" Robinson was named the 1994 National Player of the Year, earning All-America recognition along the way.

Robinson played only two seasons at Purdue, yet ranks eighth on the school's all-time scoring list. In his junior and final season with the Boilermakers, Robinson averaged more than 30 points a game and led Purdue to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament.

Robinson garnered several national honors as a junior, including the coveted Wooden and Naismith award. He was named Big Ten Player of the Year. In 1994, Robinson led the nation in scoring and became the only player in Big Ten history to score more than 1,000 points in a season.

In the summer of 1994, Robinson was the No. 1 pick in the NBA draft by the Milwaukee Bucks. Twice an All-Star, Robinson has averaged more than 20 points and six rebounds a game since playing in the NBA. He now plays for the Philadelphia 76ers.

Dave Schellhase 1966 All-American

Known for his hard-driving moves to the basket, Dave Schellhase was named first team All-America, as a senior after earning second team honors in 1965.

Schellhase was Purdue's MVP in each season he was with the Boilermakers. A standout in the classroom, Schellhase was Purdue's first academic All-American, earning the honor as both a junior and senior.

Schellhase has the second-highest single-game point total in Purdue history, scoring 57 points against Michigan his senior season.

Averaging 28.8 points per game during his career, Schellhase became the first Boilermaker to score over 2,000 points in a career. He currently ranks third on the all-time scoring list and ranks eighth all-time in rebounding.

Following his career at Purdue, Schellhase played for the Chicago Bulls for two seasons before going on to coach at Morehead State and Indiana State.

Schellhase was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1992, and the Purdue Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame in 1996.

John Wooden 1930, 1931, 1932 All-American 1932 National Player of the Year

John Wooden is perhaps best known for his accomplishments as a coach at UCLA. While in Los Angeles, the "Wizard of Westwood" won 10 national championships in a span of 12 seasons from 1948 to 1975. However, few realize what a tremendous athlete Wooden was as a Purdue undergraduate.

A three-time All-American from 1930 to 1932, Wooden led the Boilermakers to the 1932 national championship after a 17-1 season under head coach Ward "Piggy" Lambert.

Wooden averaged 12.2 points per game his senior season and earned national player of the year honors. He finished his career at Purdue with two Big Ten championships under his belt.

Following his collegiate playing days, Wooden played professionally for the Indianapolis Kautskys, the Whiting Ciesar All-Americans and Hammond All-Americans. He coached at Dayton High School in Kentucky (1932 to 1934) and South Bend Central High School in Indiana (1934 to 1934) before landing his first college coaching job at Indiana State (1946 to 1948).

Wooden was elected into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1960, and is one of two inductees who have been enshrined as both a player and coach. Wooden was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1962 and the Purdue Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame in 1994.

Jewell Young 1937, 1938 All-American

Perhaps the best local talent Purdue has ever seen, Jewell Young earned All-America honors in 1937 and 1938.

Young led the Boilermakers to Big Ten championships in 1936 and 1938, while leading the Big Ten in scoring for three straight seasons. Young averaged 14.5 points during the 1937-38 season, when the Boilermakers went 18-2. He scored a Big Ten singlegame record 29 points as a senior. Additionally, he was named the Big Ten Athlete of the Year in 1938.

Young served in the Navy during World War II. After the war he coached basketball at Southport High School in Indianapolis from 1946 to 1954.

Young was selected to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 1964, and the Purdue Intercollegiate Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998.

Purdue's Top-10 Matchups

(1) OHIO STATE 92, (10) PURDUE 62 Jan. 28, 1961, at Columbus, Ohio

Terry Dischinger went 10 for 11 from the charity stripe to lead all scorers with 26 points and 11 rebounds. Ohio State was simply too strong with Jerry Lucas and Larry Siegfried combining for 38 points and 23 rebounds. OSU forward Bobby Knight was held to just five points.

(9) PURDUE 86, (7) WEST VIRGINIA 79 Dec. 28, 1961, at Los Angeles, California

After Purdue lost to USC the night before, Terry Dischinger scored 32 points and pull down 20 rebounds against the Mountaineers. Purdue led the entire second half, pulling as far away as 12 points from the Mountaineers.

(1) UCLA 94, (10) PURDUE 82 Nov. 30, 1968, at Los Angeles, California

Rick Mount led all scorers with 33 points, but the Boilermakers could not contain two-time National Player of the Year Lew Alcindor, who managed 18 points on the evening and a victory for John Wooden's Bruins.

(6) PURDUE 92, (4) NORTH CAROLINA 65 March 20, 1969, at Louisville, Kentucky

The Boilermakers led North Carolina by only four points at halftime, but Rick Mount dropped in 23 of his 36 points in the second half. George Faerber chipped in nine rebounds to send Purdue to the NCAA championship game.

(1) UCLA 92, (6) PURDUE 72 March 22, 1969, at Louisville, Kentucky

In Purdue's first NCAA championship game, Rick Mount put up 28 points, leading the tournament in scoring with 122. That was not enough to stop the Bruins and Lew Alcindor, who scored 37 points against the Boilermakers.

(5) OHIO STATE 67, (8) PURDUE 58 Jan. 5, 1980, at Columbus, Ohio

Joe Barry Carroll scored 21 points and blocked three shots in a losing effort against Clark Kellogg and the Buckeyes. Keith Edmonson chipped in 14 points and five rebounds.

(5) SYRACUSE 66, (10) PURDUE 61 Jan. 13, 1980, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Joe Barry Carroll posted 28 points, 10 boards and four blocks, but it was not enough as the rest of the Boilermakers combined for only 33 points. Purdue led by nine at the half but was outscored 36-20 in the second.

(4) DEPAUL 68, (7) PURDUE 61 Dec. 22, 1983, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Purdue held a 31-26 halftime lead, with Jim Rowinski scoring 10 of his 19 points in the first half. James Bullock dropped in 12 points and six boards. With 11:26 remaining in the second half, DePaul overtook the lead for good. The Blue Demon's Tyron Corbin shot 81.8 percent from the field for 24 points. Depaul outscored Purdue 25-18 to end the game.

(4) NORTH CAROLINA 94, (2) PURDUE 81

Dec. 29, 1986, at Dallas, Texas

Doug Lee led the Boilermakers with 21 points and seven rebounds. Everette Stevens managed 17 points but got into early foul trouble. Troy Lewis and Todd Mitchell, who combined for 26 points, could not make up the 12-point deficit from the first half against Dean Smith's Tarheels.

(2) IOWA 70, (6) PURDUE 67

Jan. 19, 1987, at West Lafayette, Indiana

Melvin McCants brought Purdue to within three with 13 seconds remaining, but the Boilermakers would get no closer. Troy Lewis led all scorers with 20 points. Iowa's Kevin Gamble shot 90 percent from the field in the Hawkeye victory.

(7) PURDUE 80, (4) IOWA 73 Feb. 12, 1987, at Iowa City, Iowa

Purdue was back for revenge after a bitter loss to lowa only three weeks earlier. Everette Stevens went 8 for 11 from the field and 5 for 5 from behind the arc and led the Boilermakers with 23 points. Melvin McCants also collected 16 points and 12 rebounds as Purdue led the entire game.

(6) PURDUE 75, (3) INDIANA 64

Feb. 26, 1987, at West Lafayette, Indiana

Purdue led Bobby Knight's Hoosiers by nine at the half, holding Indiana's Steve Alford to merely one first-half point. Troy Lewis led all Boilermakers with 18 points and six rebounds.

(2) PURDUE 80, (10) MICHIGAN 67 March 5, 1988, at West Lafayette, Indiana

Melvin McCants had a career-high 24 points and pulled down 10 rebounds in only 25 minutes of work. Michigan's All-American Gary Grant had 16 points, and Glen Rice managed only four first-half points.

(8) PURDUE 91, (4) MICHIGAN 73 Jan. 31, 1990, at Ann Arbor, Michigan

Stephen Scheffler scored 13 of his 18 points in the first half to put Purdue up by nine at the break. He went 7 for 8 from the field, helping the Boilermakers shoot .700 on the night. Tony Jones led all scorers with 23 points and nine rebounds.

(9) PURDUE 79, (8) MICHIGAN 77 March 4, 1990, at West Lafayette, Indiana

Stephen Scheffler dropped in 26 points, but Jimmy Oliver was the hero when he hit a 19-foot jumper with three seconds left and the score tied at 77. The Wolverine's Terry Mills and Rumeal Robinson combined for 50 points in Michigan's second loss of the season to the Boilermakers.

(7) MICHIGAN STATE 72, (10) PURDUE 70 March 11, 1990, at East Lansing, Michigan

Tony Jones put up 13 of his 26 points for a six-point Boilermaker lead at the half. But with 20 seconds left in the game and Purdue up one, the Spartans' Dwayne Stephens stole the ball and dunked to put Michigan State ahead for good.

(3) MICHIGAN 80, (9) PURDUE 70 Jan. 7, 1993, at West Lafayette, Indiana

Michigan led by 10 at the half and never let up. Glenn Robinson had 30 points and nine boards, but Purdue shot only 36.5 percent as a team. The Wolverines were led by Chris Webber's 22 points, 14 rebounds and four blocks.

(9) PURDUE, 95, (3) MICHIGAN 94 March 6, 1994, at Ann Arbor, Michigan

Cuonzo Martin scored 21 points, but it was Glenn Robinson who would get his revenge on Michigan, scoring 37 points, grabbing nine rebounds and hitting a game-winning jumper with six seconds left and the Boilermakers down by one.

(6) DUKE 69, (3) PURDUE 60 March 26, 1994, at Knoxville, Tennessee

The score was tied at 32 at the half, and a bid to the Final Four was on the line. Matt Waddell led the Boilermakers with 16 points and Purdue held All-American Grant Hill to only two second-half points, but Cherokee Parks (15 points 10 rebounds) and the Blue Devils were simply too deep. Glenn Robinson scored 13 points in his final game, ending his career with a Purdue-best 1,030 points in a single season.

(4) NORTH CAROLINA 73, (6) PURDUE 69 Nov. 29, 1997, at Anchorage, Alaska

The Boilermakers led by eight at the break, holding Carolina's Vince Carter scoreless in the first half. Antwan Jamison led the Tarheels back to the lead with 23 points and nine rebounds. Brad Miller pulled down nine boards and scored 29 points, including a dunk with 16 seconds left to bring Purdue within one.

(6) KENTUCKY 89, (7) PURDUE 75 Dec. 3, 1997, at Chicago, Illinois

Chad Austin dropped 24 points and Brad Miller managed another double-double, including four blocks, but poor shooting plagued the Boilermakers all night. Purdue shot 39.1 percent from the field. UK was led by Nazr Mohammed, who went 8 for 10 and finished with 19 points.

(8) PURDUE 86, (10) XAVIER 84 Dec. 20, 1997, at Indianapolis, Indiana

Jaraan Cornell scored 20 of his 28 points in the first half to put Purdue ahead 17 at the half, but the Musketeers' 50-35 second half run almost ruined the evening. Chad Austin chipped in 23 points to secure the victory, and Brian Cardinal's shot with 1:24 left was the last field goal of the game.

Purdue's Most Memorable Games

The following games were compiled by the Purdue Sports Information office with considerable help from the media. Special thanks to those media members who assisted in the project. PURDUE 53, CHICAGO 18

Mar. 7, 1932, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Chicago was never a threat to the Boilermakers, nor were many of the games in 1932 even remotely close as Purdue finished the season with a 17-1 record and winning by an average of 16.6 points over their opponents, capped off the with this 35 point romp of Chicago. National Player of the Year John Wooden scored a season-high 21 points for a team that included future Purdue coach Ray Eddy, Football All-American Dutch Fehring, and basketball greats Ralph Parmeter and Harry Keller. The first NCAA postseason tournament was not held until 1939, but the Helms Foundation voted Purdue the national champs in an almost unanimous decision.

PURDUE 51, INDIANA 49

Feb. 28, 1948, at Bloomington, Ind.

Dick Axness was held to just seven points, but Norris Caudell chipped in 10 points to tie the score at 49. With five seconds on the clock, future All-American and Olympian Howie Williams fell to the floor in a brawl under the basket, rebounded a loose ball and, while sitting on the floor, shot the game-winner for the Boilermakers to beat the Hoosiers.

MINNESOTA 59, PURDUE 56 (6OT)

Jan. 29, 1955, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Purdue led 27-23 at the half, but Minnesota came back to tie the game at the end of regulation. The game then went into a record six overtimes before a winner was declared. The box score went as follows:

	1	2	10T	2	3	4	5	6	TOT
Minn	23	24	0	0	0	0	2	10	59
PU	27	20	0	0	0	0	2	7	56

Denny Blind finished with a season-high 18 points, and Don Beck and Joe Sexson combined for 26 points and 23 rebounds in the losing effort.

PURDUE 81, (2) MICHIGAN 79

Mar. 9, 1964, at Ann Arbor Mich.

Billed as a duel between sophomore sensations Dave Schellhase and Michigan's Cazzie Russell, the two did not disappoint. Russell finished with a game-high 27 points, but Schellhase's 25 points clinched runner-up honors in the Big Ten scoring race with 379 points for a 27.1 point per game average. At the half, Purdue was up on the nation's second-ranked Wolverines by five, but Michigan came back and the game was tied at 77 with 1:50 left. Bob Purkhiser drained a field goal and hit two free throws en route to 26 points on the night to put Purdue up 81-77. A Michigan basket with :14 left could only pull the Wolverines within two.

(1) UCLA 73, PURDUE 71

Dec. 2, 1967, at West Lafayette, Ind.

In Rick Mount's first game as a Boilermaker, he showed the world why he was the only high school player to ever grace the cover of Sports Illustrated by scoring 28 points. UCLA led 45-41 at the half, but Purdue came back with Herm Gilliam's 21 points and seven rebounds. With the score tied at 71, UCLA's Bill Sweek hit a 23-foot jumper with two seconds left to put the Bruins ahead for good. They were his only points of the day.

(6) PURDUE 75, MARQUETTE 73

March 15, 1969, at Madison, Wis.

Purdue led the entire first half, finishing the break five points ahead of the Golden Eagles, but with two seconds left in regulation, Marquette's Ric Cobb was sent to the charity stripe with the Boilermakers up one. He made the first free-throw but missed the game-winner. In overtime, with the game tied at 73, Rick Mount made the most important of his 26 points, dropping the game-winning field goal from the corner with :02 left.

(9) IOWA 108, PURDUE 107 Feb. 28, 1970, at West Lafayette, Ind.

lowa led 49-47 at the half, even though Rick Mount scored a record 32 first-half points. Purdue managed a nine-point lead with just over four minutes left, but the Hawkeyes came back, outscoring Purdue 16-6 in the final 3:33 which included a six-point play for lowa from a technical foul called on the Purdue crowd. The Rocket broke his own scoring record by dropping in 61 points in the loss.

(18) PURDUE 87, UTAH 81

Mar. 3, 1974, at New York N.Y.

In Purdue head coach Fred Schaus' second year with the Boilermakers, he guided Purdue to the NIT championship. Purdue lost to Utah by two earlier in the year, but got their revenge in the championship game. The Utes led by five at halftime, but with Frank Kendrick, Purdue's only senior starter, going 9 for 18 from the field for a team-high 25 points, the Boilermakers battled back. Utah set an NIT record for most points throughout the tournament, but Purdue's stingy defense caused 23 turnovers, and John Garrett's 24 points for the Boilermakers put the game away.

PURDUE 111, (16) MINNESOTA 110 (20T) Jan. 3, 1976, at Minneapolis, Minn.

Kyle Macy, Indiana's former Mr. Basketball, went 13 for 20 from the field and 12 for 13 from the line, scoring 38 points on the night. Purdue was down 36-50 at the half but with Macy, and Walt Jordan's 21 points and 16 boards, the Boilermakers came back to send the game into overtime. In the second overtime, Macy scored 11 of Purdue's 19 points, and a last-second shot by the Gophers could only bring it within one.

PURDUE 52, (1) MICHIGAN STATE 50

Jan. 13, 1979, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Joe Barry Carroll shined, scoring 27 points, pulling down 11 rebounds and holding top-ranked Michigan State's Magic Johnson to only nine points. But Arnette Hallman was the star of the night. Purdue led the Spartans 24-17 at the half, but the eventual national champions came back to tie the score at 50 with 2:00 left in the game. Defense was strong on both sides, and when coach Lee Rose called a time out, he set up a play that would either get the ball in the hands of Jerry Sichting or Carroll. MSU covered the duo, and Hallman found himself with the ball and five seconds left on the clock. Off balance and with a hand in his face, he threw up a 25-foot jumper to beat the buzzer and Michigan State.

Purdue dominated the Hoosiers in one of the biggest matchups in the history of the rivalry. Meeting in the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, Keith Edmonson and Drake Morris dropped in 20 points each. Joe Barry Carroll helped ensure victory with 11 points and eight boards. No. 7-ranked Indiana led only once during the game (2-0), and even though Isiah Thomas scored 30 points on the evening, eight other IU ballers could only combine for an additional 39 points.

PURDUE 56, ILLINOIS 54

Feb. 23, 1983, at Champaign, Ill.

Illinois was up 32-24 at the half, but with the help of Russell Cross' 13 points and six rebounds, Purdue overcame a 20-point deficit, outscoring the Illini 27-5 over the final 12:30. Purdue hit the game's last 18 points, including Jim Rowinski's running 18-foot jumper with :01 left and the score tied at 54. Illinois did not score during the closing 9:38.

(13) PURDUE 59, (6) ILLINOIS 55 Feb. 25, 1984, at West Lafayette, Ind.

Jim Rowinski grabbed 13 rebounds and scored 24 points, 20 in the second half. Steve Reid chipped in 14 points for the win, which drew Purdue even with the Illini in the Big Ten standings. Illinois had won by 24 earlier in the season at Champaign over a Boilermaker team that had been picked to finish ninth in the conference. This upset, in the middle of a 15-3 conference run, led to Gene Keady's first of six Big Ten titles.

Purdue's Most Memorable Games

(11) PURDUE 63, MINNESOTA 62

March 10, 1984, at Minneapolis, Minn.

In a game that clinched Gene Keady's first Big Ten championship, Jim Rowinski and Mark Atkinson combined for 30 points and 15 rebounds. Purdue led 32-27 at the half, and in the second, the lead stretched as far as 14. With 1:19 remaining, Minnesota battled back within two points. The momentum had changed drastically, but Purdue held off the fast-charging Gophers, who could only bring it as close as one with a last-second shot.

PURDUE 54, (5) ILLINOIS 34 Jan. 30, 1985, at West Lafayette, Ind.

A horrible snowstorm hit West Lafayette, but that didn't stop a sellout crowd from watching Purdue stomp the fifth-ranked Illini. James Bullock led all scorers with 18 points and nine rebounds, and Mark Atkinson dropped in 13 points to help the Boilermakers hold the lead throughout the game. Illinois' 34 points is the lowest opponent total since Pittsburgh managed only 29 points in 1947.

PURDUE 72, INDIANA 63

Feb. 23, 1985, at Bloomington, Ind.

Todd Mitchell scored 21 points and pulled down 12 rebounds in only 29 minutes of work, but nobody walked out of Indiana's Assembly Hall talking about Mitchell. Merely five minutes into the game, Steve Reid was sent to the foul line, and that did not sit well with Indiana coach Bob Knight. He received three technicals in a row for arguing the call, and upon the third, he had heard enough and threw his chair across the court. Coach Knight was ejected, but his Hoosiers still kept it close. At halftime, the Boilermakers were up 35-32. IU's star, Steve Alford managed only eight points on the night, allowing Purdue to finally pull away.

PURDUE 81, (13) INDIANA 79 (OT) Jan. 13, 1990, at Bloomington, Ind.

Indiana's Calbert Cheaney scored 30 points on the night to put Purdue down 42-29 at the half, but Tony Jones drained 15 of his 21 points in the second half, and Chuckie White scored 19 points in only 28 minutes of work to bring the Boilermakers back. With only 35 seconds left, Ryan Berning hit a 15-footer to send the game to overtime, and Purdue took off from there, securing a two-point lead and the game.

PURDUE 61, (4) INDIANA 59 March 15, 1992, at West Lafayette, Ind.

The Hoosiers came out of the gate strong, leading by five at the half, but Woody Austin's game-high 20 points and six rebounds and Craig Riley's 15 points helped Purdue come from behind. Indiana managed only six points in the final 3:26. The Purdue win cost Indiana the Big Ten title. The Columbus, Ohio, mayor declared March 15 Purdue Day for helping Ohio State win the conference championship.

(3) PURDUE 83, (13) KANSAS 78 March 24, 1994, at Knoxville, Tenn.

In Purdue's third trip to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen, Glenn Robinson and Cuonzo Martin showed that they were the best 1-2 punch in Boilermaker history. Robinson broke Purdue's record for most points in an NCAA tournament game, scoring 44 points and pulling down seven rebounds, while Cuonzo dropped in 29 points, 20 in the second half. Roy Williams' Jayhawks came within two points, closing the score to 78-76 with only :33 left, but Purdue held on for the win and an Elite Eight matchup against top-ranked Duke.

PURDUE 84, (10) IOWA 83

Jan. 14, 1995, at Iowa City, Iowa

Cuonzo Martin scored 23 points, and Justin Jennings had 17 more on the evening en route to a 50-37 halftime lead. But 10th-ranked lowa's 22-5 run at the start of the second half turned the tables. With one minute of play left, Todd Foster came off the bench, and was fouled, with the Hawkeyes up 83-81 and only 13 seconds left. Foster dropped three of four from the stripe, his only points of the day, and put Purdue ahead for good.

PURDUE 89, (24) INDIANA 87 Feb. 18, 1997, at Bloomington, Ind.

Everything the Hoosiers threw at Purdue, the Boilermakers matched. Indiana's A.J. Guyton managed 31 points, but Brian Cardinal scored 25 points and grabbed nine rebounds. The score was tied at 37 going into the break, and the game stayed tied 77-77 at the end of regulation. Purdue only needed one overtime this game as Chad Austin drained the last of his 18 points, a running 17-foot buzzer-beater with :00.6 seconds left on the clock for the win.

PURDUE 83, RHODE ISLAND 76 (OT) March 13, 1997, at Memphis, Tenn.

Rhode Island got ahead early, finishing the first half with a 45-36 lead. With the game, and a chance to play No. 1 Kansas in the next round on the line, the Boilermakers came back, led by Brad Miller's 31 points and eight rebounds. Brian Cardinal chipped in a double-double with 10 rebounds and 16 points, including a thee-point jumper with :16.7 seconds left to send the game into overtime. From there, Purdue ran away with the game, going on an 11-2 run.

(11) PURDUE 99, (10) MICHIGAN STATE 96 (OT)

March 1, 1998, at East Lansing, Mich.

Michigan State raised the season-finale banner before the game even started, but Purdue had other ideas. Even though MSU was up 49-43 at the half, Brad Miller's 30 points and 12 rebounds, combined with Brian Cardinal's 19 points brought the Boilermakers back in a hurry. Michigan State's Morris Peterson managed to score with:02.1 left on the clock sending it to overtime, but Purdue came from one down to drain the last four points of the game. Purdue not only got the win but a No. 2 seed in the NCAA tournament.

PURDUE 72, (1) ARIZONA 69 Nov. 25, 2000, at Indianapolis, Ind.

The big names of No. 1 Arizona, including Gilbert Arenas (18 points), Jason Gardner (14 points) and Luke Walton (nine points), came to the Wooden Tradition and found themselves in the middle of an upset. The game was tied at 34 at the half, but Rodney Smith's 20 points and eight boards, as well as Willie Deane's 16 points put the Boilermakers in prime position for the win. With only :02.9 left, Deane stepped through the Wildcat zone defense and dropped in a layup for a three-point lead and only the second win over a No. 1 ranked opponent in Purdue history.

PURDUE 78, (2) DUKE 68 Nov. 29, 2003, at Anchorage, Alaska

In the championship game of the Great Alaska Shootout, Purdue took the court against No. 2 Duke.

The Blue Devils led early, going into the break with a six-point advantage, but a 14-2 Boilermaker run to open the second half turned the tide. Purdue maintained the lead from there, putting away the Blue Devils, 78-68. David Teague and Chris Booker scored 19 and 20 points, respectively, but it was Kenneth Lowe's 22 points that earned him MVP honors for the tournament.

After a 20-point second-half deficit, Jim Rowinski's buzzer beater gave Purdue the victory in Champaign in 1983.

All-Time Head Coaches

Ward Lambert

Ralph Jones

Mel Taube

R.E. Vaughn

Ray Eddy

F. Homer Curtis • 1897 • 1-1

Curtis was the first coach in Purdue history. After defeating the Lafayette YMCA in a contest held at the "Old Gym," his team came up four points short in a 23-19 loss to Wabash.

Alpha P. Jamison • 1900-01 • 12-1

After three years of hibernation, Purdue basketball returned to the hardwood under Jamison, who also was the Purdue head football coach at the time. In 1901, he led Purdue to its first-ever undefeated season by going 12-0, which included a 20-15 win over Indiana in the initial game of this soon-to-be heated rivalry.

C.M. Besy • 1902 • 10-3

After a 2-2 start, Besy's squad won eight of its final nine games, including defeating Indiana and Butler twice. The Boilermakers ended the season having won their final six games.

C.I. Freeman • 1903 • 8-0

Freeman took the helm and guided Purdue to eight wins without a loss. Upon conclusion of the season, the University recognized the popularity of the sport and made basketball part of the Purdue Athletic Association.

James L. Nufer • 1905 • 3-6

One of six coaches in the first decade of Boilermaker basketball, Nufer's club posted just three wins in nine attempts and recorded Purdue's first losing season in five years.

C.B. Jamison • 1906-08 • 16-24

This Lafayette native led the Boilermakers through some hard times, posting just 16 wins in 40 contests. In Jamison's final year, his squad went winless in conference play.

E.J. Stewart • 1909 • 8-4

Athletics Director Hugh Nicol was having difficulty finding a coach for the 1908-09 season. Practice had already commenced. Finally, after searching a good portion of the Midwest, Nicol came to terms with Ed Stewart from Mt. Union College just days before the season began. After four consecutive losing seasons, the first-year coach directed Purdue to an 8-4 season and second place in the conference.

Ralph Jones • 1910-12 • 32-9

With Jones came a marked change in style. He believed in long passing and quick movement up the court at a time when dribbling was the norm. The opening of Memorial Gymnasium provided an additional spark to his team, which eventually captured the 1911 and 1912 Big Nine titles. Following the 1912 season, he left for the University of Illinois, where he coached the Fighting Illini to a 12-4 record against the Boiler-makers.

R.E. Vaughn 1913-16 • 21-32

Vaughn played basketball for Crawfordsville High School and then went on to play collegiate football at Notre Dame. Vaughn's teams posted a winning record (7-5) in his initial season, but suffered three straight losing campaigns after that.

Ward "Piggy" Lambert 1917, 1919-46 • 371-152

Lambert's positive, low-key approach off the court, coupled with his frenetic on-court presence, helped him achieve legendary status with Purdue fans and players alike. Lambert won more games than any other Purdue coach at the time and has 11 Big Ten titles to his credit. His 228 victories in conference play are the third most of any coach in Big Ten history. Along the way, he produced 10 consensus All-Americans and nine leaque-leading scorers.

All-Time Head Coaches

J.J. Maloney • 1918 • 11-5

This attorney from Crawfordsville took charge while Lambert was off serving his country in 1918. Practices were limited to just a few minutes per day as a result of a shortage of coal during the war effort. Despite the lack of practice time, Maloney's troops finished the season at 11-5 and defeated league champ Illinois.

Mel Taube • 1946-50 • 45-46

Taube became the 12th head coach in Purdue history after serving as Lambert's assistant since 1936. Many considered him to have been the tactician behind the operation in Lambert's later years. Unable to follow in the footsteps of a legend, Taube resigned under pressure on March 27, 1950.

Ray Eddy • 1951-65 • 176-164

Eddy placed a great deal of emphasis on the academic success of his players. During his 15 years at Purdue, he was able to attract a number of talented players, including All-Americans Terry Dischinger and Dave Schellhase. While finishing as Big Ten runner-up on three different occasions, Purdue failed to win the title during Eddy's tenure.

Eddy's 176 wins rank third all-time at Purdue and his 15 years on the bench rank third.

George King • 1966-72 • 109-64

King, who represented a new breed of coaches, brought with him from West Virginia an up-tempo style of play. Explosive fast breaks were the trademark of his teams. After directing the Boilermakers to their first Big Ten title in 29 years, King led his team into the 1969 NCAA Tournament, where it finished as runner-up to UCLA. Two seasons later, King stepped down as head basketball coach in order to succeed Red Mackey as Purdue athletics director. King retired as athletics director June 30, 1992.

Fred Schaus • 1973-78 • 104-60

Schaus, an imposing man at 6-foot-5, ventured to West Lafayette via the Los Angeles Lakers. His fast-breaking style excited fans, while his stingy defenses frustrated opponents. In six seasons at the Boilermaker helm, Schaus guided Purdue to three postseason tournaments and a 104-60 record. Schaus ranks fifth all-time at Purdue in wins and years coaching.

Lee Rose • 1979-80 • 50-18

An opposite of his predecessor, Rose implemented a controlled and systematic offense. His short stay is well-remembered. This master tactician led the Boilermakers to the 1979 Big Ten title and a third-place finish in the 1980 NCAA Tournament. After the 1980 season, Rose departed for the University of South Florida.

Gene Keady 1981-2005 • 512-270 (.655)

Gene Keady became the winningest coach in Purdue history on Dec. 6, 1997, by defeating Louisville, 87-69. He led the Boilermakers to six Big Ten championships (1984, '87, '88, '94, '95, '96). Purdue advanced to postseason play in 22 of his 25 seasons, including 17 NCAA Tournament berths. He graduated nearly 90 percent of his players, and Boilermakers were selected Academic All-Big Ten 41 times, including seven Academic All-America picks during his tenure.

Keady was selected Big Ten coach of the year a league-record seven times and the nation's top coach eight times in six different seasons. Keady's record was equally impressive in international competition. He led U.S. teams to two gold medals, a silver and a bronze, while establishing an impressive 22-2 record (.917).

On Dec. 12, 1997, the Mackey Arena playing floor was renamed Keady Court to honor the Boilermaker coaching legend

Matt Painter 2005- present • 31-31 (.500)

A former Purdue player from 1989 to 1993, Painter was named Gene Keady's successor on April 9, 2004. After serving as the associate head coach for the 2004-05 season, Painter became head coach on April 1, 2005.

He was head coach at Southern Illinois during 2003-04, where he led the Salukis to a 25-5 record and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. He was named the Missouri Valley Coach of the Year after a 17-1 conference record and a MVC Championship.

In only his second season, Painter led the Boilermakers back to the NCAA Tournament, tied for fourth in the Big Ten and set a Mackey Arena record with 16 wins.

RED MACKEY AWARD

Established in honor of the late Purdue athletics director, this award recognizes athletes who exemplify the overall success of Boilermaker athletics. Guy "Red" Mackey devoted nearly half a century to Purdue athletics before his death in February 1971. The criteria for nomination includes competitive spirit, positive attitude, loyalty and self-discipline, hard work for the best interest of the team, and a willingness to help others. At the completion of the intercollegiate athletic season, a committee of letterwinners selects three of the nominees to receive the scholarship award for postgraduate study or completion of their degrees. The following are men's basketball nominees, with scholarship winners designated with an asterisk (*):

FINAL FOUR - 1969

Louisville, Ky.
Head Coach: George King
Final Record: 23-5 (13-1)
Final Associated Press Ranking: 6th

Purdue finished the season as the national scoring champion (94.8 ppg) and set 27 individual and team records. All the records were meaningless, however, as Purdue prepared for the school's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. As Big Ten champion, Purdue received a first-round bye. Purdue defeated Miami (Ohio), Marquette and North Carolina to advance to the championship game against UCLA. Lew by Lew Alcindor, the Bruins jumped out to a 24-10 lead, and the Boilermakers could never catch up. Consensus All-American and team MVP Rick Mount led Purdue with 28 points.

FINAL FOUR - 1980

Indianapolis, Ind. Head Coach: Lee Rose Final Record: 23-10 (11-7) Final Associated Press Ranking: 20th

After being shunned by the NCAA selection committee the year before, Purdue was happy to be included. The Boilermakers finished third in the Big Ten, but featured consensus All-American Joe Barry Carroll. After defeating La Salle in the first round, Purdue reeled off three straight upset wins over St. John's, Indiana and Duke to reach the Final Four. Larry Brown's Bruins, the only Final Four participant with a lower regional seed than Purdue (No. 8), defeated the Boilermakers. Carroll and Keith Edmonson were named to the Final Four all-tourney team. Purdue defeated lowa 75-58 in the consolation game.

SWEET 16 - 1988

Pontiac, Mich. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 29-4 (16-2) Final Associated Press Ranking: 3rd

Purdue won its first outright Big Ten title since 1969 and first back-to-back since 1935-36. The Boilermakers set school overall, regular-season and Big Ten victory records. The team featured three 1,000-point career scorers: Troy Lewis, Todd Mitchell and Everette Stephens. Purdue defeated Fairleigh Dickinson and Memphis State to reach the Sweet 16 for the first time under coach Gene Keady. The Boilermakers then faced No. 4 seed Kansas State, a team they defeated by 29 points in the regular season. The Wildcats, behind future NBA star Mitch Richmond, stunned the Boilermakers, 73-70.

ELITE EIGHT - 1994

Knoxville, Tenn. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 29-5 (14-4) Final Associated Press Ranking: 3rd

Purdue advanced to the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight for the first time under coach Gene Keady. The Boilermakers won their 19th Big Ten championship, the fourth under Keady. Purdue was rewarded with the No. 1 seed in the Southeast Regional. The Boilermakers defeated Central Florida and Alabama to reach the Sweet 16, then defeated Kansas 83-78 in the regional semifinal. National Player of the Year Glenn Robinson scored a Purdue NCAA Tournament-record 44 points against the Jayhawks. Cuonzo Martin hit a school-record eight three-pointers and overall Purdue made a school-record 15 treys against KU. Duke stopped Robinson and defeated the Boilermakers, 69-60, in the final.

SWEET 16 - 1998

St. Louis, Mo. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 28-8 (12-4) Final Associated Press Ranking: 11th

Purdue's 36 games played (28-8 mark) were the most in school history. The Boilermakers cruised past Delaware (95-56) and Detroit (80-65) to advance to the Sweet 16. Purdue's 39-point win over Delaware was the biggest in school history and the second-largest ever in the NCAA Midwest Regional. In the regional semifinal, Stanford finished the first half on a 17-2 run and held on for a 67-59 victory over Purdue in St. Louis. Poor shooting sank the Boilermakers, who shot a season-low 31 percent from the field. Brad Miller had 13 points and 11 rebounds for a double-double against the Cardinal.

SWEET 16 - 1999

East Rutherford, N.J. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 23-13 (7-9) Final Associated Press Ranking: none

Despite a disappointing 7-9 record in the Big Ten, Purdue advanced to the Sweet 16 for the second consecutive season and the third time in the 1990s. The only team to make the NCAA field of 64 with a losing record in conference play, the No. 10-seed Boilermakers upset No. 7 seed and Big 12 conference champion Texas (58-54) in the first round before posting a convincing 73-63 win over No. 2 seed Miami (Fla.) in the East Regional. In the regional semifinals', Temple shot 55 percent from the field, as the Owls handed the Boilermakers their worst ever postseason defeat by a count of 77-55.

SWEET 16 - 2000

Albuquerque, N.M. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 24-10 (12-4) Final Associated Press Ranking: 25th

Purdue defeated Gonzaga 75-66 in a second-round matchup to make its third consecutive appearance in the Sweet 16. The No. 6-seeded Boilermakers defeated Dayton 62-61 in the first round game that went all the way to the wire. Dayton had a 9-0 run late in the second half, but Purdue took charge with three clutch three-pointers by Jaraan Cornell down the stretch. In what can be called a mild upset, Purdue defeated No. 3 seed Oklahoma to clinch its third-consecutive appearance in the Sweet 16 and fourth overall under coach Gene Keady.

ELITE EIGHT - 2000

Albuquerque, N.M. Head Coach: Gene Keady Final Record: 24-10 (12-4) Final Associated Press Ranking: 25th

Purdue came arguably as close as it has come to its first Final Four appearance under Gene Keady, following an inspiring performance in Albuquerque. The Boilermakers defeated Gonzaga 75-66 in a regional semifinal game, thanks to great defense and strong rebounding. Purdue went on to face Wisconsin for the third time in one season, hoping the third time was a charm. Unfortunately, the Boilermakers fell just four points short of a Final Four appearance.

Purdue In The NIT

PURDUE CAPTURES 1974 NIT CHAMPIONSHIP

In 1974, Purdue defeated Utah 87-81 to claim the NIT championship in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Purdue's first-round opponent was No. 7-ranked North Carolina. In a made-for-national-television matchup, the Boilermakers were substantial underdogs to the only ranked team in the tournament.

Purdue's Jerry Nichols scored 22 points, and a swarming defense limited Tar Heels' All-American Bobby Jones to 17. The Boilermakers, down 11 at intermission, outscored UNC 31-11 in the first 10 minutes of the second stanza en route to the victory.

Revenge was a motivating factor three days later in the second-round game against Hawaii. Purdue avenged an early-season loss to the Rainbows, but a season-ending knee injury to Nichols in the closing minutes of the game, put a damper on the 85-72 win.

Next up was a semifinal date with Jacksonville. A victory would mean a title-game showdown with Utah, and another opportunity to atone for a regular-season loss. Center John Garrett's 21 points and strong guard play from David Luke (seven assists) and Bruce Parkinson (15 points, seven assists) helped the Boilermakers pull away from a 36-36 halftime deadlock for a 78-63 win.

In the nationally televised final, Frank Kendrick and Garrett combined for 49 points, but it was the play of reserves Mike Steele and freshman forward Gerald Thomas that put Purdue over the top. After trailing for most of the game's first 30 minutes, Purdue went ahead 76-74. With 3:20 left, Steele missed the front end of a one-and-one, but Thomas tipped the ball back to Steele, who hit a soft jumper for a four-point lead. Seventeen seconds later, Thomas connected on a pair of free throws. A Garrett layup and a Kendrick free throw followed, and with 44 seconds to play the celebration began.

With the win over Utah, the 1973-74 Boilermakers became the first Big Ten team to capture the NIT. Kendrick, an all-conference selection and Purdue MVP for the second straight year, was named to the all-tournament team. Coach Fred Schaus' second Purdue team finished 11th in the final AP poll.

John Garrett was a co-captain of the 1974 NIT Championship team.
